

position relative to default result — strong-phase uncertainties only

